

Susan is an avid fly fisherwoman and fly tier. She is past president of the Long Island Flyrodders and remains an active member. When not discovering new places to fly fish on travels across the country with her husband, Howie, Susan enjoys passing her knowledge of the sport onto others.